The Meeting Connection's Virtual Event Platform

Virtuality by TMC

Say hello to Virtuality.

The Meeting Connection's virtual event platform for an immersive virtual experience

About Virtuality

Virtual events that feel like events and not an impersonal technological challenge. Virtuality provides a personalized platform for you to host your entire event or various bits and pieces virtually. From a long-time trusted name in the meeting planning industry comes a platform for your next hybrid or fully virtual event.

Virtual Experience

Virtual events should be much more than just a video stream on a web page. That's why we envisioned and created Virtuality from an attendee perspective. Attendees crave interaction and creativity, so we designed a virtual environment that will engage attendees to not only learn but also to interact.

Why Virtuality?

Why not Virtuality? The Meeting Connection partners with you to turn your virtual vision into a reality. This is created for you and tailored to your needs.

About the Developer

Since 1986, The Meeting Connection (TMC) has been providing meeting and conference planning services for associations, corporations, religious organizations, etc. TMC is a full-service meeting and consulting company that helps plan large-scale conferences to smaller, intimate events. We developed Virtuality as a modern proprietary platform for virtual events.

> Not since the digital revolution in the early '90s has technology placed such a comprehensive burden on business, employees and individuals to reinvent their business plans, services and products, and themselves to keep pace with the changing marketplace.
\- Simon Mainwaring

Choose your plan.

We provide three plans: Essential, Pro, and Premier.

The features for each plan are listed on our pricing table, however you may customize any option to better suit your needs. Additional fees may apply.

Provide us the details.

You provide us the details such as sessions, presenters, time slots, schedule, attendee lists, etc. We then personalize and tailor your virtual experience. This is not a DIY tool that you have to challenge yourself to learn. TMC sets everything up for you!

Launch your event!

When your virtual or hybrid event is ready, we give you a test run and then communicate with your attendees and presenters to ensure their comprehension of the platform. We even offer technical support so your event goes off without a hitch.
